Jason, spacing is about 890' to the domestic well to the west. They can't really encroach much more than that due to the road, so spacing should be met when the well is completed. We did not receive comments from either of the nearby wells.

I don't think you attached anything. Did you mean to attach an electronic version of the review and recommendation letter?

- Tyler, here is the recommendation material for this change app. It looks like everything works. The only question I didn't verify was the distance to the domestic well in SW of section 27 since the log GPS was incorrect. Do you have better info on the spacing there or did they send in any comment from the letters sent out? Let me know if you need anything else.

Do you guys still need me to send the original signed review letter to you or is this good for your office?

Jason, the location of the proposed well being 515'N & 90'W is correct, I just confirmed this with the applicant. I explained to the applicant that the location on the test log puts the well NE of the pivot point. He said they did a test hole near that location as well but liked the one located 515'N & 90'W better, maybe the driller put the incorrect GPS on the log we have or possibly they sent the wrong log (based on the "x" on the log this seems to be the correct spot so who knows). Either way, they want the well at 515'N & 90'W. I filled out and sent the application without seeing this actual test log. Devon just told me the depth and location and said he would send the log in as soon as he could, so I didn't fully review this log cause the change was already sent to the owners.

You good with that? Make sense?

Cameron

Good afternoon Tyler. I started the review for you so I could appease Cameron on my time and hit a question. On the application they have the footages of 515N 90W. I run the GPS on LEO and get totally different numbers, both NAD83 and NAD27. It looks like 1000' feet or so from the footages on the application. Are they using something different or how did they get the proposed footages/GPS? Just wanted to make sure I had the correct spot for the review.

Talk to you soon.
